

Steps for Starting NUCALA

You've taken an important first step by talking to your doctor about NUCALA. It's important to know that filling your prescription is a little different from what you may be used to.

Your doctor's office, Gateway to NUCALA, your insurance company, and your specialty pharmacy will work together to get your medication to your doctor's office. Keep in mind that this takes time, so you may not receive NUCALA for several weeks.

How Your Prescription Is Filled

Instead of being filled at your local pharmacy, your prescription for NUCALA will be filled by a specialty pharmacy. These pharmacies focus on only certain conditions and particular medications.

But before your prescription can be filled, the specialty pharmacy or your doctor will work through the approval process with your insurance company. After you've been approved by your insurance company to receive NUCALA, the specialty pharmacy will send NUCALA directly to your doctor's office.

The specialty pharmacy may have questions for you. Be sure to return any calls from your specialty pharmacy. Any delay in returning their calls could slow down the time it will take for you to start NUCALA.

While this is how the process usually happens, your experience may be a bit different. The actual process, including how long it will take, depends on your insurance plan and specialty pharmacy.

What You Can Expect

Over the next few weeks, there will be a lot of behind-the-scenes work happening on your behalf. Gateway to NUCALA, a service provided by GSK, is here to:

- help you understand your insurance coverage for NUCALA.
- enroll you in the $0 Co-pay Program.* If you have already enrolled at your doctor's office, you should receive Co-pay Program information and instructions. Keep it handy for when the specialty pharmacy calls to collect your co-pay.

While you wait for your prescription for NUCALA, you may also receive:

- a call from the specialty pharmacy to verify your insurance and, if necessary, collect your co-payment. If you have concerns about affording NUCALA, we may be able to help. Call Gateway to NUCALA for more information.
- a call from your doctor's office to schedule your first appointment.
